Major Stephen Cushing returned last evening from Ayer, Mass., having accompanied to Camp Devens the delegation of soldiers from Newport, St. Johnsbury and other points in the eastern part of the state who went to that camp on Wednesday by way of the Boston & Maine railroad. They reached there a little after 4 o'clock in the afternoon and on the same train with the troops which went through this city Wednesday morning in charge of C. D. Waters, Vermont representative of the American Railways association. The delegation from Benning county was in charge of Major Linn Taylor and reached the camp in good season. The delegation from Middlebury and Rutland was a little late in arriving, due to slow traffic after leaving Vermont. They were in charge of Lieutenant Springer. All of the boys arrived in good shape and Major Cushing was much pleased with the camp as he found it upon his examination.

Amputation of three fingers on the right hand and the thumb of the left hand was necessary in the case of Dianne Sorkes of upper Granville, who was brought to the City hospital by Dr. E. H. Bailey this forenoon following injuries received at Jones Bros.' quarry in Granville. The nature of the accident had not been learned by employees of the company this afternoon, as Skres, a young man of 20 years, was alone when it happened. He was working under the group dump and it is surmised that his hands caught in the rope or shift tackle. As soon as his condition was discovered Dr. Bailey was called and upon the physician's advice he was removed to the hospital.

North Barre is emerging from the throes of its annual mad dog scare, as the derelict canine which has been terrorizing the inhabitants of the north end ballwalk has not been seen for nearly 24 hours. The dog is described as an onery creature whose performances measure up to the best traditions of North Barre mad dogs. On a recent night young children took to shelter while an officer of the law fired futilely upon a fleeing dog and on another occasion a shotgun was used without effect.

A telegram received this morning by Deputy Sheriff Norman McKenzie of Granville advised him of the accidental death of his brother, James McKenzie, a former resident of Barre Town, which occurred in Missoula, Mont. The deceased was formerly well known in Granville and Westerville and it is expected that the body will be brought to Barre Town for interment.

Goddard seminary offers unusual training along commercial lines. Students who have completed the grammar school can obtain their commercial training in two years. Another class will be formed this fall for older students and they will plan to complete the work in one year. This is a practical plan, for those who have taken such a course in the past are giving efficient service in many offices here in the city. All who desire commercial training are asked to consider these courses. Two teachers give all their time to this department and another teacher gives half of her time. Tuition is $17 a term. School opens next Tuesday.—adv.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR

MILLS ARE RUSHED

Largest Output for Weeks While Receipts of Wheat Gained $15,000 Bushels Over Amount Ground.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Food administration officials yesterday pointed to the report on last week's activities of the Minneapolis flour mills in connection with reports that some of the mills there were forced to close for lack of wheat. The report said:

"The Minneapolis mills last week produced 367,000 barrels of flour. This was the largest week's output for many weeks and in excess of the production for the corresponding week of 1916. The wheat used totaled 1,652,000 bushels, while the wheat receipts for the week amounted to 2,467,000 bushels. This week's receipts, so far have been heavy and there is no indication that this condition will change."

SWEDISH MESSAGES HELD UP

Penalty of Transmitting Messages for Germany.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Sweden's official reticence concerning the exposures made by Secretary Lansing on the part her diplomatic agents have taken in transmitting German messages is regarded here largely as a cloak to cover what must necessarily be an embarrassing internal reform. Until official admission of a measure of guilt is made and promises of greater care in the future are given, it appears improbable that Swedish diplomatic representatives will be afforded the same facilities for the transmission of their dispatches. Although the American government has not placed any restrictions on the Swedish legation here there is daily evidence that code messages sent to and from Stockholm through cable stations in the control of Great Britain are being subjected to indefinite delay.

ORANGE

F. A. Gale and daughter have returned to their home in Lowell, Mass., after spending some time in their summer home.

Miss Beatrice Davis and Percy Chipman, who have been visiting at E. L. Flanders', have returned to Portland, Me.

The dance Wednesday evening was fairly well attended. A good time is reported.

Plan to spend Tuesday evening in Orange, when there will be a flag raising. Rev. Edgar Crossland and Rev. J. B. Reardon of Barre will speak and music will be furnished by the bag pipe band from Barre. After the flag raising there will be a dance and ice cream and cake will be served. The proceeds are to go for the Red Cross work. Everybody is most cordially invited to help make this a success.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tucker and daughter visited at Mrs. Tucker's home in Chelsea Sunday.

Charles H. Elliott of Barre was a recent guest of E. L. Flanders.

RHONDDA MAY PLACE
ENGLAND ON RATIONS

Compulsory Measures, He Says, Will Be Taken If Voluntary Economies Fail.

London, Sept. 21.—Inauguration of a new food economy campaign in Great Britain was announced yesterday by Baron Rhondda, the food controller. If voluntary measures fail, he said, "I shall have no compunction in putting the nation on compulsory rations."

Baron Rhondda added that the danger of the situation does not lie in the submarine perils but in the world's shortage of cereals, meats and fats.
